FRANCE LOOKS WITH INCREASING GRAVITY ON SECRET SOCIETY

Arrests of Six Hooded Members Followed by Revelation of Well-Equipped Military Machine — Warrants for Further Arrests — Charge Conspiracy Against National Security

(Copyright, 1937, by The Havas News Agency)
PARIS, Nov. 17 (CP-Havas).—The secret hooded society known as La Cagoule was the object of a nation-wide police investigation tonight as legal proceedings began at Dieppe on the charge of plotting

What officials had at first been inclined to dismiss as a hoax was viewed with increasing gravity after six arrests revealed a well-organized and equipped military machine.

WEAPONS AND EXPLOSIVES

Enough explosives to blow up a section of Paris, anti-aircraft weapons, machine guns, huge ammunition stocks, ambulances and stretchers, all cached in subterranean chambers, were among the contraband material seized in alleged La Cagoule arsenals.

Those arrested were René Anceaux, a wealthy Dieppe contractor; Gaston Jusserae, proprietor of an apparently sleepy little family boarding house which inquiry proved to be honeycombed with underground passages concealing great stores of explosives and munitions; Robert de la Motte de St. Pierre, a well-to-do young Parisian; and Fernand Jakubek, Joseph Vasselin and Louis Mollicone.

Evidence gathered by police was turned over tonight to Examining

TOURISTS BUY HEAVILY IN U.S.

Canadians Return Home With $5,000,000 Worth Of Duty Exempt Goods

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP).—Canadian tourists returning from abroad during the past seven months of the fiscal year brought in goods to the value of $4,979,741 as travellers' baggage, free from duty under the $100 exemption, according to a statement issued today by Revenue Minister Hickey. Of this amount, $4,290,138 represented goods brought in from the United States.

Free travellers' baggage is classified under seven items, including one for miscellaneous commodities. Of these seven, clothing took first place with a total value of $2,403,047 from all countries. The greater part ($2,076,536) came from the United States.

Boots and shoes held second place, with a value of $473,495, of which $452,685 was from the United States.

OTHER COMMODITIES

Other commodities with United States entries in brackets, were as follows:

Furniture and household appliances, $466,213 ($432,520); automobile tires and tubes, $84,194 ($63,864); automobile accessories, $62,861 ($62,577); miscellaneous commodities, $1,130,467 ($823,726).

During October, Canadians brought in goods under the duty free provision to the value of $867,302, against $689,417 for the same month last year. The total from the United States was $777,754, and $588,714 last year.

EXPECTS PRODUCTION TO REACH HIGH PEAK

EDMONTON, Nov. 17 (CP).—Industrial production in Canada this year will equal or exceed the peak total of 1929, Frank C. Brown, of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, predicted in an interview here today.

BOY DROWNS NEAR SIDNEY

Alan Skinner, seventeen, of Sidney, was drowned yesterday morning at Denman Island, Provincial Police headquarters here reported. Skinner and his father were clam digging when their boat drifted away. The youth, wearing waders, made an effort to recover it but got into difficulties in his cumbersome hip boots and was swept away by the tide.

Six Persons Killed When Train and Car Collide at Ontario Village Crossing

Three Girls Among Victims Not Identified — Freight Locomotive Crashes Into Auto at High Speed, Hurling Vehicle 150 Feet Down Tracks — Usual Signals Given

VINELAND, Ont., Nov. 17 (CP).—Six young people—three men and three girls—were killed here tonight when a Canadian National Railways freight train, traveling at a speed of fifty miles an hour, struck an automobile at a station crossing and hurled it 150 feet down the track.

At a late hour tonight, only three of the dead were identified. They were twenty-year-old James Fisher, driver of the car; Robert Colley and Steve Butch, all of Welland. The girls were believed to have been killed yesterday in an air crash.

Ludwig became the grand duke on the death of his brother and today the former Margaret Campbell Geddes, daughter of Sir Auckland Geddes, became the grand duchess in a private wedding ceremony in St. Peter's Church, in Eaton Square.

CALGARY MAYOR WINS ELECTION

Andrew Davison Re-elected In Three-Cornered Contest By Large Majority

CALGARY, Nov. 17 (CP).—First elected mayor of Calgary by acclamation in 1929, Andrew Davison, Calgary's Irish-born chief magistrate, was re-elected to his fifth two-year term tonight.

Supported by the Civic Government and Taxpayers' Association, Mayor Davison, an Independent, was re-elected by a large majority over A. J. E. Leismer, Labor, backed by the Social Credit League. James W. Gillman, Independent, had under 500 votes.

Under the system of proportional representation ballot counting, the mayor was re-elected on the first count. The vote was: Davison, 19,475; Leismer, 13,361, and Gillman, 444.

Both of Colley and Butch were identified by Fred Fisher, brother of James, who was elected to Vineland, five miles east of Ormiston, from his home at Welland.

GIRLS NOT IDENTIFIED

At the home of James Fisher in Welland, it was not known who had been his passengers. It was said that he left his home with two friends, who, it was believed, had been dropped at Chippawa, ten miles from Welland, and two other men friends had been picked up

Hundreds Attend at Banquet When Kipling Fund Is Inaugurated

Quarter Million Pounds Objective for Memorial To Literary Genius—His Majesty the King Sends Message—Large Sum Subscribed

LONDON, Nov. 17 (C)—Nine hundred of the vast numbers Rudyard Kipling delighted with his prolific pen gathered at a banquet tonight in his honor and launched a subscription fund aimed at amassing £250,000 ($1,250,000) to perpetuate his name.

Subscriptions to the Rudyard Kipling Memorial Fund during the evening amounted to £10,000, which, with previous pledges, brought the total to £45,000.

Winston Churchill, chief speaker, paid tribute to Kipling's literary genius and his vivid portrayal of the "spacious panoramas" of the Empire.

COMMON HERITAGE

The King, in a message read to the banquet in response to an expression of loyalty from the gathering, termed Kipling's genius "the common heritage of all who speak the English tongue."

The original Stalkey—Major-General L. C. Dobsterville—and the original McTurk—G. C. Beresford—reminded of the early days with "Bettie"—Kipling's name for himself in his famed book of schoolboy days, "Stalkey & Co."

Lord Greenwood, a native of Whitby, Ont., proposed the toast to the guests.

The dinner was primarily an Empire affair, with representatives from every corner of the Commonwealth which Kipling included in his works.

At special tables were representatives of the Irish Guards, whose history Kipling wrote; the Kipling Society, the Royal Empire Society, the Old Boys of his college, the West India Committee, the Oriental Club, the Overseas Club, the Royal Society of St. George; the County of Devonshire (home of Kipling's old school), the County of Sussex and many societies of men of letters.

The Earl of Athlone, president of the memorial fund, presided with his wife, Princess Alice. He said the fund was an international as well as an Imperial tribute.

Its first objective is to establish the Kipling Foundation to create five bursaries at the Imperial Service College at Windsor, the present name of Kipling's old school, for boys who are sons of servants of the Empire.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY

The second purpose is to build in the grounds of the college a memorial library to be the future home of Kiplingians.

The third is to acquire a suitable memorial at Westward Ho—the original home of the services college—where stands the famous Kipling Tora (hills), around which the adventures of Stalkey & Co. took place.

OPPOSED "TINKERING"

The Conservative candidate stated he had consistently opposed "tinkering with Empire trade agreements from the very beginning of my campaign. The issue is definitely in this campaign," Mr. McElvie continued. "I have been accused by my opponents of waving the flag because I said the winning of this seat in a city, the most British on the continent, would give the Prime Minister of Canada a mandate to do just what the lumbering interests of this province are now fighting to prevent. The result of the election in this city may well be an answer to Mr. MacKenzie King that British people prefer to keep the markets of the Empire. Much as I like my neighbours, I do not want them to board at my table at my expense," asserted Mr. McElvie. He said if the United States was given preferences on an equal basis with Canada in products of the forests, "it would be at the cost of the future of the lumbering industry in this province." The major portion of lumber exports, he said, was to the United Kingdom to a market "secured after long negotiations."

VALUE TO PROVINCE

Canadian preferences, the speaker said, were obtained by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett in 1932, and had proved the salvation of British Columbia during the period of depression. He stated Mr. Bennett had consistently demanded to enter into a trade treaty with the United States that would give equitable treatment by Canada with Canada. "This refusal by Mr. Bennett caused considerable annoyance at Washington. We have been selling 750,000,000 feet of lumber in the United States, under those preferences. It has meant $10,000,000 in direct wages alone. It has meant the employment of from 8,000 to 10,000 men in lumbering operations alone. I have already asked Hon. Ian Mackenzie to define his attitude on this matter. The lumber interests will also ask him."

DENIES SEPARATION

Before dealing with trade preferences, Mr. McElvie touched on the need for better treatment by Governments of Vancouver Island.

"It has been stated that I once advocated the secession of Vancouver Island from the Dominion of Canada. That accusation is absolutely and utterly without foundation. What I did say, and what now repeat, is that Vancouver Island needs a better deal than it has been getting. No effort has been made to replace activities for the capital wealth taken away from us. I repeat again what I said months ago. If we cannot get a fair deal, it is only right we have control of our own revenues as a separate province within the Confederation."

The candidate said Vancouver Island had been, for many years, living off the Island's capital assets without a single thought of conservation. Today you have the word of the best authorities that the stands of Douglas fir will be depleted within the next ten years.

That is the situation, and what will be the result. The disappearance of our timber, which will not be replaced, will affect every community on this Island. Where will we place our youth? Where have no opportunity to offer the youth, you cannot have progress. What we need now is a long-term plan of development for the future," he stated.

TRADE CHANGE OPPOSED HERE

Bruce A. McElvie Reaffirms Opposition to "Tinkering With Empire Facts"

"This by-election means much more than merely filling a vacant seat in the House of Commons. It means a great deal to the people of British Columbia, and how much was demonstrated by the appearance in the Capital City yesterday of a group of representatives of the lumbering industry, demanding the Provincial Government intervene to prevent a major disaster to the industry," declared Bruce A. McElvie, Conservative candidate, in an election speech at Victoria, West School, last night.

Mr. McElvie was referring to the delegation from the Mainland, headed by J. G. Robson, president of the British Columbia Lumber & Shingle Manufacturers Association, seeking support of the British Columbia Government in a fight against threatened changes in Empire trade agreements which, it was claimed, would put 10,000 workers out of employment.

TO AID LIBERALS

Mr. Mackenzie is here to take part in the Federal by-election campaign in this city on behalf of R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate, and will speak this evening at 8 o'clock at the Royal Victoria Theatre, when Premier T. D. Premier and Hon. John Hart will also be present.

Speaking earlier in the day in Vancouver, the Federal minister said, this year's estimates provided for 100 new airplanes which the department was having constructed.

Eleven machines to be built in Canada will be constructed by the Boeing Aircraft Company at Vancouver.

During his stay here, the minister will inspect a number of defense projects which are now under construction. He is accompanied by his secretary, C. Norman Senior.

OFFICERS IN DISPUTE

TORONTO, Nov. 17 (C)—Archdeacon F. G. Scott, Canadian wartime padre, said today in an interview with The Toronto Daily Star he was "informed on good authority" Japanese naval officers in disguise are living in so-called Japanese fishing villages in British Columbia."

Archdeacon Scott said he favored immigration of people from the United States with democratic ideals "in order to protect the North American bloc."

The war in the Orient and the aggrandizement of Japan threaten Canada and the United States on their Western shores," he said.

"There now are 40,000 Japanese in Vancouver alone, and Japan knows every inch of our Western Coast, besides owning enormous timber limits in those regions.

Japan also has large vessels engaged in the salmon industry there. They may belong to a class of mystery ships which England used in the war."

ACTUALLY DEFENCELESS

The noted Quebec soldier-preacher said Canada is actually defenceless.

"The politicians are throwing dust in our eyes by declaring that before Canada enters another war a special Parliament will be summoned and the people will decide whether this country will remain neutral," he asserted.

Every British nation would be a target for the enemy should England become involved in war, "and Germany wouldn't wait for Mr. McElvie to get a deal," he said.

URGES EMBARGO

China at a recent meeting of the League of Nations at Brussels was able to point a finger at Canada and to declare this nation was partly responsible for the continuance of the Japanese war of aggression.

Why does Canada not place an embargo upon exports to Japan in the same way as it did against Spain? It is because, in the latter case, not great profits were affected.

"We should insist that this Government place an embargo on these exports to clear our national honor," Professor Gordon declared.

ACTUALLY DEFENCELESS

The present defence policy of the Dominion was also criticized. Hon.

Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, has told you that our policy in this regard is for two purposes," asserted the speaker. "First,

Says Department Is Kept Well Informed On Coastal Matters

Hon. Ian Mackenzie Declares Activities of Japanese Being Watched—Urges Private Citizens To Report on Matters of Defence

"THE matter is not a new one to my department. We have an intelligence department and it is well-informed upon all matters affecting the safety and well-being of the country," declared Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, when questioned regarding statements concerning activities of the Japanese on the Canadian Pacific Coast yesterday.

"If private citizens have information of importance to the defence of our country, I think it is their duty to furnish it to the Department of National Defence. It will be cordially welcomed," the minister continued.

"It is the policy of the Canadian Government, and I am sure the desire of the Canadian people, to live at peace with all nations. Recognizing the disturbed condition of the world, the Government has, during the past year, initiated an extensive defence programme, in which the Pacific Coast has a prominent place."

"LITTLE BIT HIGH"

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17 (C)—A spokesman for the Japanese Consul here today said Archdeacon F. G. Scott's estimate there were 40,000 Japanese in Vancouver alone was "a little bit high."

The consulate spokesman said Vancouver's Japanese population was between 8,000 and 9,000, and that the Japanese populace of all British Columbians was only a little more than 20,000.

Speaking earlier in the day in Vancouver, the Federal minister said, this year's estimates provided for 100 new airplanes which the department was having constructed. Of the planes will be built in Canada, while the rest will be built in England. Included are training ships, service fighting planes, bombers and reconnaissance planes.

to control subversive interests, and secondly, for defence against possible attack."

Criticizes Statement

"The assertion that the nation is arming to control subversive interests is not a fitting statement for a member of the democratic government to make. In the second place there is little use of arming against possible attack, and then supplying war materials to a foreign government," he said.

"In conclusion, Professor Gordon declared he was proud to speak for hundreds of thousands of Canadians who did not wish to ally themselves with dishonesty, and that he was proud, too, to represent those people who are looking to the government to fulfill their needs of social security."

M. J. Coldwell, M.P.P. for Rosewood-Biggar, Sask., here to assist Professor Gordon in the campaign urged the people of Victoria to return a "service to the Dominion in November 29."

He charged that the Government has failed to make provision for a depression that "will shake the world to its foundations."

"We are following the same path that led us to 1930," Mr. Coldwell warned.

DRAWS COMPARISON

He drew attention to the record of the governments of New Zealand, France and Sweden, "the only ones of their kind in the world that are leading their people to social freedom," and suggested that what could be done in these nations could also be done in Canada.

Trusteeship on B.C. Funds Proposed in Budget Debate Here

"Mild Inflation" for Canada to Finance Road Programmes, Silver Purchase Plan Backed by Paper Certificates, Tax for Relief Mooted

CHARGING long-continued extravagance in provincial affairs, Herbert Anscomb (Cons., Victoria) recommended creation of an independent board of trustees to take charge of British Columbia sinking and trust funds, in the Legislature yesterday. Speaking on the budget debate, Mr. Anscomb said he saw no hope for a curb in provincial extravagance until a Federal loan council had been instituted, with powers of review over British Columbia borrowings. He was followed by E. C. Henninger (Lib., Burrard) and Dr. Lyle Telford (C.C.F., Vancouver East). Three minor bills were presented during the day.

Mr. Henninger started the House with a call for a Federal policy of "mild inflation" which he suggested the British Columbia Government should urge upon the national administration at Ottawa. He suggested, also, a silver-purchase plan in Canada, whereby the Dominion would pay 55 cents per ounce for silver mined in Canada, rebating one-third of such profits to the provinces for road programmes, and issuing paper certificates against the silver.

Dr. Telford attacked the budget, proposing a special tax for unemployment relief.

LIAISONS

Mr. Anscomb urged retention unchanged of Empire trade agreements affecting British Columbia lumber, as reported elsewhere. On the budget he declared the Province would have a deficit on liabilities of between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 if a proper balance sheet had been presented, instead of a surplus of $18,000,000 now shown.

The P.G.E. was being carried at an asset value of $78,000,000, including interest capitalized on loans. No proper statement could be made of the net debt of the Province while the value of Alberta and other depressed securities in the sinking funds was unknown. He would repeat that the gross debt was approaching $200,000,000, despite Treasury denials, when contingent liabilities were taken into account.

Neglect had been shown in retaining unsold some $120,000 in Alberta direct bonds, $150,000 in Alberta guaranteed issues, $445,000 in Saskatchewan bonds, $200,000 in bonds of Burnaby, $325,000 in those of North Vancouver City, and $135,000 in North Vancouver District bonds, which could have been liquidated.

A DEFENCE POLICY

There is in all election campaigns something in the nature of a barren superfluity of words. In the present by-election contest in Victoria this becomes apparent when the Liberal candidate tells us that "it behoves Canada to build her own defences to protect her shores and trade routes." This Dominion is not protecting and never did protect her trade routes. The increased appropriation for defence measures has nothing whatever to do with such protection because it does not provide for a single cruiser to patrol the outer seas. That protection is provided, as in the past, by the British Navy and the British taxpayers. It is by virtue of what the latter expend that the Canadian merchant marine is enabled to go upon its lawful occasions on the world's trade routes.

Canada, with her increased appropriation, about which there has been so much unnecessary palaver and high-sounding platitudes, has not provided sufficient money to build a modern battleship. Her outlay on defensive measures is approximately one-half of that provided by Australia, a Commonwealth that has but little more than half the population of this Dominion. From the standpoint of world preoccupation in armaments, from the standpoint, too, of what is adequate for the country's defences, the measures being adopted by Canada are underserving of the publicity given to them by politicians. An increased appropriation for defence is a belated realization that Canada has not been pulling her weight in the comity of nations. What she is doing, moreover, is but an instalment, and a pitiful one at that, in any programme designed to make her national insurance of the self-supporting variety.

National defence should never be a party issue, yet time and again it has been made such. Since it involves the inviolability of these shores, what is done is a national effort which should be dependent on unified action and in which all political parties should unite for love of country. For any political organization to attempt to nurture its party fortunes and curry public favor on the ground that it is providing more money than its predecessor in office for naval, or military, or aerial outlays indicates the low ebb to which politics may be dragged. In the present by-election campaign, much is being made of the fact that money is being spent in this constituency for defence works. That is a claim put forward by the Liberals that their candidate should be successful at the polls. It is another appeal to the venality of the voters. It is designed to make defence a party issue by designating what is merely the instalment of a self-respecting policy on the part of the country as a vote-pulling expedient.

DANGER SPOT IN MEDITERRANEAN

In the Mediterranean, off the east coast of Spain, there are four little islands, Majorca, Minorca, Ibiza and Formentera, comprising the Balearic group, which have received considerable attention in the newspapers of many tongues for the past twelve months. Normally the possessions of Spain, three are dominated by the Insurgent and Italian armies, and one, Minorca, remains under the authority of the Spanish Government. From the time it first became known that Italian troops were being stationed in Majorca some months ago, there have been misgivings among other European nations as to the intent of the Italian Government. These misgivings were allayed somewhat when Signor Mussolini gave the world his assurance that Italy had no intention of annexing any part of these islands. So long, however, as Italians are in actual possession of Majorca the possibility remains that they may find it expedient to place a military force on Minorca, and the longer they remain in the Balearics the greater the possibility that they may change their views on the question of annexation.

These islands, which are less than 2,000 square miles in area and have a population of approximately 350,000, have little to offer in the way of resources. They contain a small quantity of iron, lignite coal and sea salt. Large quantities of fruit and vegetables are grown, but these are not worth fighting about. It is their importance in the strategy of the Mediterranean that is the deep concern of several Powers, notably Great Britain and France. The Balearics dominate the sea routes between France and her North African possessions and the British trade route to India via Gibraltar. They are on the air line between Marseilles and Algiers. From the Italian standpoint, Minorca is only one and one-half hours by air from Sardinia. Bases at Palma and Port Mahon lend themselves to shelter for warships and Port Mahon is considered one of the best observation points in the Mediterranean.

The Balearics have loomed largely in the history of the Mediterranean for hundreds of years. In the days of the Punic Wars, Carthage held Minorca against Rome's ambition for Mediterranean power. Normans and Vandals in turn raided the islands. In 903 Moors conquered the Balearics, and James of Aragon won them for Spain in the thirteenth century. They figured in the wars of the Spanish Succession when England dominated Sardinia and Minorca sufficiently to establish a blockade along the French coast. In the Seven Years War, to break the blockade, France seized Minorca. Later Nelson used Minorca as a base. In 1805, by the Peace of Amiens, the islands were ceded to Spain after nearly a century of English rule. The Balearics have followed the fortunes of Catalonia, with the exception of the French and English interludes, from the time the Moors were driven out in the Middle Ages. Catalan is the language spoken by the inhabitants of the lower and agricultural classes, while Castilian, and to a lesser extent French, are the languages of the commercial classes.

Italian Fascism has as one of its basic objectives increased prestige for Italy in the Mediterranean. Domination of the Balearics would increase Italy's power, and the fact that she is now in technical possession will make abandonment difficult. Until the future of these Mediterranean islands is settled to the satisfaction of the nations interested, they will continue to be a danger spot in international affairs.

BRITISH COLUMBIA AND THE DOLE

Mr. Pattullo, the Premier of British Columbia, has intimated that this Province will be favorably disposed to the Federal Government securing power to put an unemployment insurance scheme into effect. This is a matter which should be sanctioned by resolution of the Legislature, which is the proper authority where constitutional amendments are at issue. In the present instance the probability is that it will be only a matter of submission of such a resolution to secure the unanimous consent of the Legislature, for all parties are disposed to favor the experiment of the dole instead of the direct relief policy now in effect.

British Columbia, more perhaps than any Province, will be interested in the form of unemployment insurance to be devised by the Federal Government. Here there is a good deal of seasonal occupation, with the prospect that many workers will only be able to make part-time contributions to an unemployment insurance fund. The problem will then arise of what, if any, benefits they are to secure when they have been in arrear over a certain period with their unemployment tax. The propaganda in favor of unemployment insurance is devised on the ground that it will remove the fear of want, that it will banish the spectre of "no job, no money." What the people will want to know is whether it will do so in all instances, or, in other words, to what extent the dole is to be all-embracing, to apply to young and old, to unemployed and unemployable, and most of all, perhaps, in this Province, to those who are only seasonably employed.

The matter should be discussed by the Legislature before there is a yielding up of the right to Ottawa. There is no certainty that once the Dominion Government has the authority it will consult the Provinces as to the nature of the measure that will decree unemployment insurance. Some guarantee of such consultation should be precedent to approval by this Province of the principle at issue. The proper authority to make representation in this respect is the Legislature of British Columbia.

There is a margin of error usually accepted in official guesswork respecting a budget. President Roosevelt, in the matter of the budget of the United States for 1937-1938, has gone astray in an unprecedented way. Last January his estimate was that there would be a surplus of $37,000,000. In April he amended this figure, translating it into a deficit of $418,000,000. He was still in the role of underestimating, for now his revision places the deficit at $695,000,000, and this does not provide for any allowance for debt repayment. The promise is being held forth to Americans that the budget will be balanced next year. If there were a Lloyd's in the United States, such an institution would lay fairly substantial odds against President Roosevelt's budget prognostications being fulfilled.

UNFAIR AND DISHONEST

It may be good politics, but it is everything else that is unfair and dishonest for the Premier of this province to try to make the people believe that everyone who opposes him and the insane and ineffective policies of his Government is a traitor to the people. I have no doubt about the final end of the Abberhart Government. It will be one of ignominious rejection by the people, who cannot fail to come to the conclusion that their real enemies are the men who obtained office by pledging to do things which they could not do, and who are now raising a false issue to serve as an excuse for their own failure. It is this latter part of the record of the Government that to my mind is the most despicable feature of the whole business.—E.R. in People's Weekly.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Put Victoria down as an honest town, a place for honest people. A town where householders have to be actually coaxed by the police to lock up their homes when they go out; a town where thousands of dollars worth of portable property stands out in the open gardens, untouched; a town where taxidrivers return with 10 cents in change, as actually happened to an acquaintance of mine the other day; a town where shopkeepers point out they have received a nickel too much in change over the counter—towns of honest people. Don't tell me the exceptions, it is the rule that counts.

Seasoned prospectors and trappers in the north are still suffering from nerves, after the visit of the big game hunt this Fall. The man came in from a far country, in hunting regular, accompanied by gun-bearers, guns-in-suited and all the paraphernalia of the good, expensive sporting goods stores. Residents snickered, and the guides in charge of the party added three expert marksmen, to protect the lives of their patrons.

The first day out the party met a grizzly bear. Erect on two hind feet, the bear charged them. The visiting hunter calmly selected a rifle from his gun-bearer, stepped out in front of the party and dropped the most dangerous animal in British Columbia woods almost at his feet with one shot. He had what it takes. The guides do not snicker now.

Catch-words are piling up in the British Columbia Legislature. For instance, if anyone speaks in a confidential manner, he is said to have a "bedside manner." Surgeons are exempt, because they do not as a rule attend at bedside.

If you want something particularly fine in the way of meat, you must ask for "a brisket of pet possey from the Cariboo," or "a sirloin, beefsteak from Trail," or even a piece of the average, 6-cents-per-milk-milk herds in Columbia. By a curious shuffle in geography, the new toll bridge over the Fraser River has become "the gateway to Victoria." When it comes to acumen, you may be able to fool human beings, but "you can't fool a cow," know.

A somewhat difficultfeat at times, Dubhobars at certain undressed moments of their checkered careers are said to bear a strong pathological resemblance to the natives of Northern Europe. A filibuster in the House is known now as a "Burlesque." Visionaries are said to be "gazing into the crystal ball." There is much more of it, as you might expect from thirteen days of intensive debate by forty-seven speaking Members and one silent Speaker, all honorable all human.

Did you ever have a tune get into your head, with no indication of ever getting out again? It can be distressing. For instance, on the radio these days every second station is playing a popular number, the words of which are indistinct, but the air persists. It is something about "ven-ven-veni," or "Billy-Billy-Billy." I can't quite make out; but it has got me down. I have to that tune. I eat to it. The street singer sings it, on the way to work. The typewriter is a crank for its chorus. From early morning to late at night that tune comes back to me from life. The messenger boy whistles it. The dentist hums it. The hairdresser sings it. Members of the Legislature get right close to it, at times. I hate it, but what good does that do me—it is in my head.

I hope in future to be able to say that you have a tune get into your head, with no indication of ever getting out again? It can be distressing.

I use the word "tune" advisedly, because they were slipping behind the crowd as if they were ashamed of being seen in the background.

I know children pretty well; I had a Guide company for several years before I married and have four children of my own now, and I know that they would have loved to be a part of that ceremony, and if the Guides would explain to them the meaning of it, all would take part as reverently as any of the others and, indeed, with more heart than many who have grown older and wiser and see more of the deceit in the world.

TUBERCULAR UNIT OPENED BY GOVERNOR

Hon. Eric W. Hamber Congratulates Local Kiwanis Club on Project

SEAL CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN HERE TODAY

At a brief ceremony yesterday afternoon, Hon. Eric W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, opened the tubercular unit established at 901 Fairfield Road, by the Victoria Kiwanis Club Association for the rehabilitation of the tuberculous. The house is in the grounds adjoining Vernon Villa, where T.B. patients at St. Joseph's Hospital are cared for.

His Honor said it was a great pleasure for him to participate in the formal opening of this building, which provided a place of rehabiltation for patients recovering from tuberculosis.

He extended congratulations to the Kiwanis Club and the other organizations responsible for its institution. "This work is something of which to be proud," the Governor declared. His Honor referred briefly to all those enjoying good health and the gratification they must realize from helping those less fortunate.

URGES PUBLIC SUPPORT

Mr. Hamber expressed the hope the public would give its whole-hearted support to the T.B. seal campaign, which opens today, and which provides the finances necessary for the establishment and carrying on of the tubercular unit.

"I want to be the first to contribute to this worthy cause," said His Honor, who later made a handsome donation to C. Elwood Watkins, president of the association.

In conclusion, the Governor conveyed his wish that the establishment would continue to expand and prosper according to the association's efforts.

Mr. Watkins, before introducing Mr. Hamber, outlined the reasons for the establishment of the unit and what it proposed to do. The new association, he said, was composed of ten citizens, including Dr. F. Kincaid, director, and eleven members of the local Kiwanis Club, the president and treasurer of the body being members of the service group.

TWELVE PATIENTS

The unit, he explained, is for the rehabilitation and vocational guidance of convalescent patients, twelve of whom are now working in the establishment. The Kiwanis Club provides the necessary funds through the sale of T.B. seals.

Regarding the latter campaign, Mr. Watkins pointed out that twelve thousand appeals in support of the campaign would be in the mail this morning. In addition to purchasing the seals, the president requested that all who received them would make use of the stickers at Christmas time.

Miss Sheila Boyd, who has had considerable experience in work of this nature, is the instructor. John book ends, and assorted wooden Kyle and J. W. Gibson, both of the novelties.

Following his visit to the rehabilitation building, the Governor visited Vernon Villa.

DR. F. KINCAID

Dr. F. Kincaid was introduced by the president, and spoke a few words on the work from the medical standpoint. He expressed the belief the unit would be responsible for the re-establishment of patients as self-supporting members of the community. "The idea that patients convalescing from tuberculosis must rest all the time is out of date," the doctor said. "By engaging in occupational therapy they are kept interested in everything rather than their disease," he added.

The unit, in addition to providing employment for convalescing patients, will provide a job for men and women even after they have been pronounced cured, officials explained.

The Governor, accompanied by Major Vincent McKenna as A.D.C., was conducted on an inspection of the work done by the inmates. The work displayed included various forms of handicrafts—leather work, etc.

Mr. Cunningham, Port Essington, well known all along the Pacific Coast, is in Victoria for a few days on his way to Southern California for the Winter months.

He will leave today for the South and in the meantime is renewing old acquaintances here.

Mr. Cunningham spends the Summers in Northern British Columbia, where he has interests to direct and occupy his time to a considerable extent.

With his father, Robert Cunningham, the early history of the Northern British Columbia coast is intimately associated with the business house of Robert Cunningham

& Son. Many of the interests were disposed of as time went by and

George Cunningham is now able to spend a considerable part of the year in the South.

In 1908 he joined the staff of the Bank of Montreal from 1885 to 1901, when he became a member of the Montreal Stock Exchange, remaining with that organization until 1907.

In 1908 he joined the staff of the Canadian Pacific Hotels, becoming manager in 1909 and remaining at that hotel until 1911. He was appointed assistant manager-in-chief of C.P.R. hotels system in the latter year.

In 1912 he became superintendent of hotels in Alberta and British Columbia. In August, 1913, he resigned from the service and accepted management of the Wind-or Hotel, Montreal. In 1915 Mr.

Hutchinson rejoined the Canadian Pacific as manager-in-chief of the hotel system, with headquarters at Montreal. He retired some years ago and established residence at Cowichan Bay.

One sister, Mrs. K. H. Harper,

London, Ont., survives.

Adult Education Part Of Institute Activity

Reports Read at Annual Meeting of Federated Women's Institutes—Members Urged To "Pay Publicity Debt"

TORONTO, Nov. 17 (C)—Varied programmes of adult education were being carried on by the women's institutes throughout the Dominion, Mrs. Harvey Dunham, Peterborough, N.B., national convener of the committee on education, said today in her report to the annual meeting of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada.

Topics studied included home economics, health, sanitation, cottage crafts, fine arts, interior decoration and even history, travel and geography.

A system of rural sanitation, paying attention to the location of wells, proper location to barns and houses, proper covering of wells, enforcement of quarantine laws in rural districts and appointment of qualified public health inspectors was urged in the report of Mrs. Alison MacMillan, Fairview, P.E.I., national convener of the social welfare and public health committee of the federation.

Miss Beatrice McDermott, superintendent of women's institutes, said a change of attitude towards old-fashioned habits of living and education was the fundamental change needed to raise the standard of rural living. The old-fashioned habits were a "menace to family health," she declared.

Mrs. J. McAuland Adanac, Bask, read a report on Girl Guides activities.

KITCHEN GARDENS

Raising of standards—"more elegance in the kitchen garden and more planned beauty in farm home surroundings"—was advocated in the report of Mrs. C. A. Good, national convener of the committee on agriculture.

"The flower garden and landscaping not only may help the soul, but it makes that soul more pleasant to live with because it lives in a body kept healthy by the products of a well-managed vegetable garden," the report said.

PUBLICITY DEBT

Elizabeth Bailey Price, Vancouver, publicity secretary, urged board members to "pay your publicity

W.B.A. Sale
A successful sale of work was held in St. Ann's Hall by the W.B.A., on Tuesday afternoon and evening, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Annie Barraclough. The bazaar was opened by Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, who was introduced by the convener, Mrs. Andrew McGavin and the guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Jean Bowden, and Mrs. Barraclough. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. J. G. Ritchie, with Mrs. K. Hole accompanying. Two pupils of Miss Florence Clough entertained with dancing. Misses Winnie Man and Ilace Roskelly. Mrs. Plaskett was presented with a sheath of lovely pink and white chrysanthemums, and the soloist, Mrs. Ritchie, received a potted fern. The stalls were gaily decorated with colored crepe paper and had a great variety of gift suggestions. Mrs. M. Burnett and Mrs. M. Thompson were in charge of the fancywork; novelties, the girls' club, with Misses Winnie Welsh, Mary Laird and Winnie Graham; the "grab-box"; Mrs. Yeaman; candy booth, junior girls, with Miss E. Malcolm; aprons, Mrs. G. Gaetz and Mrs. H. E. Coates; games, Mrs. A. Taylor and Mrs. A. Davis, and home cooking, Mrs. M. Laird and Mrs. N. Brown. Afternoon tea and hot supper were convened by Mrs. Alice Malcolm and her committee. Court whist and bridge were played in the evening with Mrs. B. McAllister and Mrs. Mary Minnie in charge. The winners at what were: First, Mrs. J. Bowden; second, Mrs. A. Malcolm, and consolation, Mrs. J. Nichol. The bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Eve and Mrs. Standwick.

St. Columba's W.A.

A successful tea and sale of home cooking and novelty Christmas gifts was held by the ladies of St. Columba's W.A., in the Strawberry Vale Community Hall, on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Canon Wickens and Mrs. Wickens were among the guests and during the afternoon Mrs. R. M. McIntosh, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. K. Mead-Robins, sang two delightful solos. A gypsy who told fortunes, did a thriving business. Tea was served from tables decorated with Autumn flowers, by Mesdames F. Stacey, Munro and Clements. The home-cooking stall was in charge of Mrs. G. Gilham and Mrs. Cox and the novelty stall was supervised by Miss Brown, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Postle.

Wilkinson Road W.A.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. of Wilkinson Road United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Quick, Wilkinson Road, with Mrs. J. Hoy presiding. Mrs. W. J. Jewell and Mrs. Quick were appointed as a nominating committee to select officers for the coming year, and final arrangements were made for a box social to be held in the Sunday school room on Friday evening, November 26. The next meeting will be held at the home of Rev. William and Mrs. Allan, Glyn Road. Tea was served by the hostess.

Bazaar Held By W.A. Nets Sum of $300

The annual missionary bazaar held yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of two of the Women's Auxiliaries of Christ Church Cathedral, the Senior Evening and the Business Women's Branches, was a great success and netted the sum of $300. The affair was held in the gymnasium of the Memorial Hall.

The stall holders began business at 2 p.m. and at 3 p.m. the sale was officially declared open by Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, who, in a short, appropriate speech, referred to the work accomplished by the Woman's Auxiliary in this diocese and throughout Canada.

The general convener was in the capable hands of Mrs. C. W. Brooks, who also acted on the reception committee assisted by Mrs. E. O. Robathan and Miss Margaret Sill, president of the Senior Evening Branch. Tea was under the chairmanship of Miss Moti and Miss Nicholson, assisted by members from the branches. #### Honored at Shower

Miss Edna Teagle, a December bride-elect, was honored last evening at a delightful miscellaneous shower given by the staff of the Metropolitan Stores, Ltd., and held at the home of Miss Doris Hooper, Grammore Road. The popular bride-to-be was the recipient of many lovely gifts concealed in a gaily decorated basket, the outside of which was dotted with myriads of chrysanthemums. Tied to every gift was a little posy which Miss Teagle later wore as a corsage bouquet, and each guest was given a chrysanthemum off the basket which bore the gifts. Bridge and other games were enjoyed throughout the evening and were followed by a buffet supper. The guests included: Mrs. H. P. Hooper, Mrs. E. Robinson, Mrs. W. McMichael, Miss Edna Teagle and Misses Dora Lewis, Lucy Merton, Edna and Winnie Hooper, Joan Cowdry, Julie Roche, Mary Bryson, Mary Lindsey, Dolly Ward, Violet Wolfe, Carla Ellis, Phyllis Hooper, Violet Kettle, May Hall, Nancy Pomeroy, Dorothy Reece, Ethna Beales and Doris Hooper.

Miscellaneous Shower

In honor of Miss Emily Gill, who is to be married this week, a miscellaneous shower was held on Monday evening by Mrs. E. Hogarth and Miss Nellie Nash, at the home of Mrs. Hogarth, Eldon Place. The gifts were concealed in a prettily-decorated box, in colors of mauve and yellow, adorned with a daintily-dressed doll. Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. W. Gill, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. M. Harris and Miss E. Gill. Mrs. D. Durrance and Mrs. R. S. Porter assisted in serving refreshments. The invited guests were: Mesdames H. McIlroy, M. Harris, Perullet, Rousay, Houl, Baxter, D. Durrance, R. S. Porter, Murkar, Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the Empress Hotel.

DUNCAN

Mrs. J. P. Leeming presided at the monthly meeting of the Duncan association held at the K of P Hall, Duncan, on Monday night. Three new members joined. Members of the local teaching staff, J. E. Hanna, Miss Tracey Currie and J. Currie, told of the teaching of health in public schools. Mr. Hanna spoke for the elementary school, Miss Currie for the junior high and high schools, and Mr. Currie dealt with the physical aspect of the subject. Many questions were asked by parents and an interesting discussion followed. It developed that a number of children were prevented from taking gymnasium classes because of lack of gymnasium shoes, and a committee will be appointed by the chair to look into the matter and an attempt made to supply shoes for children whose parents are unable to buy them. The December meeting will be held on December 15th.

CHAPTER XXIX

The conversation started again, and Loder moved away but his wife was not so quick to be robbed of her triumph.

"Well, that's no business of his, either," she thought obstinately, but she could not meet his eyes when she joined him in the room.

Loder was the one talking to him. Robert's voice was quite friendly, but to Syrie's imagination there was something dangerous about it, as dangerous as thin ice which covers deep water.

"Good night, Mrs. Harwood," Loder said.

She gave him her hand. "Good night, Mr. Loder, and thank you," she said with an effort to make conversation as they drove away from the house.

"They always feed you well," Robert answered, and then there was a silence which neither of them attempted to break.

"I just put the car away," he said when they were at his flat.

Syrie walked up the stairs very slowly. She knew he was angry with her—so angry that he could not trust himself to speak. She let herself into the flat speaking the door wide open behind her.

She would hear Robert come up the stairs; he would have to pass the door in order to reach the room in the annex where he slept. She went into the sitting-room and turned on the light. She was trembling a little, and every nerve in her body was strained to catch the sound of his steps.

Presently she heard it—a slow step, unlike his usual energetic pace. It was nearly on the landing outside. He had passed by—passed that wide open door—gone on to his own room on the other side of the landing.

Syrie turned swiftly, calling his name. He was fitting his key in the lock when she reached the open door, but he turned at once.

"Aren't you—don't you want a drink?" Syrie said.

"No thanks."

"Then—well—won't you say good night to me?"

"Good-night."

She was suddenly frightened, he looked so tall and forbidding. She gathered up the long skirt of the white frock and ran across to him.

"Come in—please—just for a minute. I want to talk to you."

"Won't tomorrow do?"

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—they awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on nerves, when in many cases it is kidney, kidney, or other poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fatigued, stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills for half a century the favorite remedy.

MARINE—TRANSPORTATION

CANADA HERE FROM ORIENT

Big White Liner Docked Yesterday After Uneventful Pacific Crossing

Reporting an uneventful passage of the Pacific from Manila and way ports, Captain W. T. Kinley, R.N.R., commander, docked the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada at Ritter Pier shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The big ship had a comparatively small list of passengers aboard, a number of whom left the liner here to take passage for United States points by ferry boats.

Mails were landed and some general cargo discharged on the local dock before the Canada continued to Vancouver at 10 o'clock, the freight, including a shipment of Japanese oranges.

The Canada did not call at Shanghai, but Captain Kinley expected, now that the Japanese have occupied the city and the dangers attending the fighting which has been going on in the vicinity are to a large extent removed, that Empress ships would be accepting business for the Chinese metropolis from now on. He didn't think it likely that the Canadian Pacific liners would go right up the river, where dredging has ceased since the trouble began, but he thought they would go to Woosung, where passengers could be transferred and cargo lightered.

Among the travelers arriving on the Canada were: B. C. Baldwin, of the National City Bank of New York; Shanghai; Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Bowen, the former being controller of the Peiping Union Medical College, Peiping; Rev. Barclay F. Baron, of the Japanese Evangelical Mission, Wimbledon; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Greer, the former being connected with the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, Tientsin; Mrs. E. W. James, wife of the director of A. Cameron & Company, Japanese representatives of Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, Kobe, and J. C. Kyle, manager of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, Harbin.

OTHERS ABOARD

Others aboard included H. Soloy, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. W. Barclay, the former being connected with the Powell River Company, returning from Hawaii; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dawson, the former being sports editor of The New York Times; C. V. Bennett, San Francisco manager of Theodore H. Davies & Company, Honolulu; R. H. Parker, representative of Staats Steamship Line at Cebu; Mrs. T. Thompson and child, daughter and granddaughter—of General Valdez, Philippine National Army; J. A. McQuilkin, Standard Vacuum Oil Company, Singapore; J. C. Williams, assistant general manager of Texas Oil Company, Hongkong; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dales and family, the former being an official of the Asiatic Petroleum Company; Major and Mrs. I. O. Barclay, of the 1st Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders, Hongkong, on home leave; A. A. Gormley, of National Carbon Company, Shanghai.

Also arriving on the Canada were E. Hinshaw, Confederation Life Association, Hongkong; Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Broadfoot, United Church of Canada, Mission, Hongkong; J. E. T. Plim, of the Lincolnshire Regiment, Rajputana; Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Bray, Hongkong; R. R. Roxburgh, managing representative of John I. Thorncroft, Hongkong; J. Finn, director of Fine Fabric

The Agony Of Eczema

Eczema, or salt rheum, is one of the most torturing of itching skin diseases. The principal cause is bad blood, aided by inactive skin and inflammation. It manifests itself in small, round pimpls or blisters which later on break and form crusts or scars and the intense burning, itching and smarting are almost unbearable.

To eradicate eczema from the system it is necessary to give the blood a thorough cleansing and for this purpose we have a specially prepared Burdock Blood Bitter.

Mrs. Jowen R. Berger, Millbank, Ont., writes:—"Several months ago I was troubled with eczema on my hands. I could not help with the scratching my hands were so sore and burning, and could hardly put them in water."

After I had taken two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I found my hands were healing very quickly. I have never found a remedy to compare with B.B. for purifying the blood."

EN ROUTE TO BIG PARLEY

Mrs. A. Shuman to Represent Hawaii at American Legion W.A. Meeting

SEATTLE, Nov. 17 (AP)—The storm-damaged ferryboat Golden Bear, towed by the tug Active and convoyed by the United States coast guard cutter Pulaski, arrived yesterday at Empire, Ore., at 3:15 a.m. today, a radio message to coast guard headquarters said.

The Golden Bear was being towed north from San Francisco to Seattle when the towline broke. The craft tossed helplessly adrift nearly twenty hours. All ten members of the Golden Bear's crew were taken off ship the night before last.

NIAGARA DUE TONIGHT

Unless further word is received from the Canadian-Australian liner Ss. Niagara, today, her time of arrival at William Head will be about 10 o'clock tonight, which should bring the ship alongside Ritter Pier somewhere about midnight. The liner has passengers, mail and cargo for Victoria, and will be here several hours.

URGES NEED OF DEFENCE

R. W. Mayhew, at Youth Rally, Claims Trade Lanes Must Be Protected

Strong endorsement of the Federal Government's defence programme was voiced by R. W. Mayhew, Liberal candidate for the by-election on November 29, when he addressed a rally organized by the Twentieth Century Young Liberals' Association, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night. The candidate declared that the Dominion stood in need of adequate defences for its coasts and trade lanes. "What is the use of building up overseas trade if you don't protect the trade routes?" he asked.

In an address prepared for the young citizens of Victoria, Mr. Mayhew said that one heard it stated that past generations had been extravagant and had left nothing but debt and a lost hope for the young people.

FOUNDATIONS LAID

"I don't think that is right," he continued. "I believe that the young people are better trained, and have just as much determination as the generations that have gone before them. When we think of Canada, of its railway system, its schools, colleges, hospitals, churches, and other institutions, we realize that we have laid only the foundations. Then we turn loose an army of well-trained young people who are sure are destined to make a Canada of which we shall all be proud."

It was true that an enormous debt faced the present generation and those to come, the candidate stated, but he reminded the young people that most of that debt was to assure for them the freedom that they enjoyed today.

WORK FOR THE PEOPLE

"It is only during the last two years, by the Liberal Government adopting a reasonable and aggressive campaign to bring work for the people, that we are lifting ourselves above the morass in which we have been sunk since 1914," Mr. Mayhew declared. "The economic problem is only in the process of solution, and it will require every one of us to complete it."

The speaker expressed a hope that the young Liberals would leave all bitterness and prejudices behind, and regard their political opponents in a liberal way. He believed that the young people of today were able to be liberal towards the views of others, but conservative when it came to spending the other fellow's money.

OVERSEAS LUMBER TRADE

The Government's trade expansion policy was lifting the country out of the slough of despond, whereas the Conservative party had been afraid of upsetting its trade agreements within the Empire, the candidate asserted. Regarding the reported concern over possible loss of lumber business, he stated that Canadian lumber entered United Kingdom ports free of duty, and lumbering concerns in Washington and Oregon thought they should get in on the same basis, and were us-

LAND SETTLEMENT

The candidate reiterated his support for the Government's unemployment insurance plan, home improvement and housing plan, and the revision of the British North America Act, and strongly advocated land settlement, stating that it would not be right to bring in new settlers until the Dominion's own citizens had been placed on the land.

Young Liberal speakers in support of Mr. Mayhew, prior to his address, were Miss Lucille McKay, A. H. Corby, and R. W. Fairclough, who gave reasons why they considered it essential that Mr. Mayhew should be elected.

The auditorium was filled to capacity for the meeting, over which Fred M. McGregor presided. A varied entertainment was presented, comprising selections by Charles Hunt's orchestra and Curley's Harvesters, songs by Miss Ina Middlecamp and Florence McGuffey, a skit by Smith and Patrick, and coming all possible influence and pressure on their own Government at Washington.

"We need someone at Ottawa with knowledge of the lumbering industry who will be able to help to hold that trade for British Columbia's primary industry," Mr. Mayhew claimed.

The candidate reiterated his support for the Government's unemployment insurance plan, home improvement and housing plan, and the revision of the British North America Act, and strongly advocated land settlement, stating that it would not be right to bring in new settlers until the Dominion's own citizens had been placed on the land.

Young Liberal speakers in support of Mr. Mayhew, prior to his address, were Miss Lucille McKay, A. H. Corby, and R. W. Fairclough, who gave reasons why they considered it essential that Mr. Mayhew should be elected.

The auditorium was filled to capacity for the meeting, over which Fred M. McGregor presided. A varied entertainment was presented, comprising selections by Charles Hunt's orchestra and Curley's Harvesters, songs by Miss Ina Middlecamp and Florence McGuffey, a skit by Smith and Patrick, and coming all possible influence and pressure on their own Government at Washington.

"We need someone at Ottawa with knowledge of the lumbering industry who will be able to help to hold that trade for British Columbia's primary industry," Mr. Mayhew claimed.

WAR ADMIRAL WILL COMPETE

Famous Race Horse Entered In $100,000 Santa Anita Event

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17 (P)—War Admiral, undefeated champion of United States three-year-olds, was entered today as a candidate for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, virtually assuring a meeting with Seabiscuit on March 5.

Charles S. Strub, head of the Los Angeles Thoroughbred Club, announced Owner Samuel D. Riddle telephoned from New York to nominate the Admiral for the big race. Nominations close on December 1.

Man-o'-War's greatest son is about the biggest name in the turf world except in San Francisco, where they reserve such endearing terms for Seabiscuit. The Biscuit, owned by Charles S. Howard, is en route to Santa Anita with prospects for one of the greatest races in history.

There will be some other good horses in the $100,000 affair, too—horses like Pompon, Heifly, Top Row and Indian Broom.

Amateur Athletic Officials Gather Today in Montreal

A.A.U. Delegates Will Open Three-Day Conference and Organization Will Defend Its Demands For Entire Amateurism—Several Important Items on Agenda for Discussion

MONTREAL, Nov. 17 (AP)—Delegates gathered tonight for the most momentous meeting in the history of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. From the three-day convention opening here tomorrow will evolve an organization pledged to defend its present demands for entire amateurism or one seeking to regain strength through a broader definition of the term.

The question faced the Regina convention last year that three proposals of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association for a more liberal amateur rule were voted down. Since then the C.A.H.A., the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association and the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association have broken off their A.A.U. affiliations. By refusing to give ground to the demands again, the union would abandon hope of drawing the three sports back.

J. W. Hamilton of Regina, president in the term which has seen the loss of power, will preside over sessions certain to be stormy. The second vice-president, G. Sydnei Harter, of Winnipeg, will introduce amendments to the constitution.

Garrison Shuttle Meet Will Start Monday Evening

ENTRIES for the annual championship tournament of the Victoria Garrison Badminton Club will close with Hugo Raymond, club secretary, Saturday evening. The meet will open Monday and will be staged on the association's courts at the Bay Street Armories. Players may file their names with Raymond or put them on the board at the Armories. The secretary may be reached by telephoning E-5320. It was also announced that no evening play will take place this week.

PRESENT DEFINITION

Effect the loss of the big three has had on the delegates will be measured in terms of the vote on Harter's proposal, which would leave the definition broad in some sports and stringent in others. The present A.A.U. definition is taken from the code of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, controlling track and field body.

A constitutional change needs a two-thirds majority. Last year the C.A.H.A.'s proposal to allow amateurs pay for time lost from work in playing was defeated by a count of 118 to 40. Another, allowing the athlete to use his athletic ability to obtain employment, was beaten, 92 to 70. A third, stipulating a professional in one sport could play as an amateur in another, was given an insufficient majority. A fourth, allowing amateur teams to play professional teams in exhibition, carried.

Harter has lost backing through loss of the hockey, basketball and lacrosse men. He has gained it in those who feel the vast decreases in revenue and membership will cripple the union too greatly.

Defenders of the constitution will argue Canada's international sports relations would be impaired by adoption of the proposals and that universities never would stand for any but the strictest amateur rules. The liberals will reply that representation of professionals never has affected the A.A.U.'s status, despite protests from the conservatives that it would.

SECOND PROPOSAL

If his first resolution fails, Harter will submit one calling for the A.A.U. of C. to overlook offences against its amateur code so long as the affected sport's international body permits the "action or matter." An important item and a contentious one will be consideration of the Southwestern Ontario branch's move to replace the present Olympic committee with an Olympic association including representatives of each sport on the Olympic programme. Part of the amendment as set out on the A.A.U.'s agenda would give places in the association to representatives of the recalibrated hockey and basketball groups.

CONFERENCE ON FISH PROBLEM

Delegation Will Meet Indian Agent And Cowichan Tribesmen Today

Members of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association attending tonight's meeting of the affiliated Fish and Game Associations of Vancouver Island, at Nanaimo, will stop off at Duncan to hold a conference with the Indian agent and Cowichan tribesmen in connection with fishing in that portion of the Cowichan River which flows through the Indian Reservation.

As the situation stands at present, fishermen are prohibited from gaining access to the Cowichan River via the Indian reservation, and the meeting has been arranged with a view to straightening the matter out in a satisfactory manner to all concerned—Cowichan tribesmen and Vancouver Island sportsmen.

J. F. Tait, supervisor of Dominion fisheries, who suggested the conference, will also be in attendance. Those attending the meeting from Victoria will be Jack Falkins, George Beck, Wallace McMillan, Jack King and W. Fawcett.

SWIM PILOT DIES

WALMER, England, Nov. 17 (UT)—Capt. Harry Pearson, seventy-two, who piloted many swimmers across the English Channel and sometimes was called the father of Channel swimming, died today.

Among those he guided were Edward Temm, only man to swim the Channel in both directions, and T. W. Burgess, who crossed the Channel in 1911.

Foul Tip Costly To Baseball Club

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 17 (AP)—A foul tip that broke the nose of a woman baseball fan cost the Buffalo Baseball Company $1,600 in Supreme Court.

A jury awarded the sum to Mrs. Georgiana Paxton and her husband, James Paxton, who charged a foul tip broke Mrs. Paxton's nose while she was watching a game.

KRIEGER WINS FIGHT VERDICT

Middleweight From Brooklyn Scores Decision Over Frankie Battaglia

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Solly Krieger, veteran Brooklyn middleweight, won a ten-round decision over Frank Battaglia, of Winnipeg, in the feature event of the New York Hippodrome card tonight. Both weighed 163½.

Apparently whipped as he answered the bell for the fifth, Krieger did a complete about-face, began finding the range with his right hand and went on to capture the last six rounds.

The Associated Press score card gave Krieger six rounds, Battaglia three and called one even. The curly-haired Canadian, making his first New York appearance in three years, had a decided advantage throughout the first four rounds, but couldn't stand up under Krieger's punches one the Brooklyn boy struck his stride.

Cautious Trading Balances Moves On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP) — Cautious trading ruled today's slow stock market session, which ended with fractional gains and losses after bounces.

In early trading leaders edged modestly forward, but many slipped in the final hour. Interest was manifestly lacking and trading desultory.

With hopes concentrated on Washington, Wall Street was slow to find positive news to lend a trend to share prices. While prospects for legislative aid to United States business were regarded fairly bright, commitments were avoided.

Not since October 8 has the pace been so slow. Transactions totaled 758,570 shares compared with 1,269,370 yesterday. The Associated Press composite average of sixty stocks dropped 3 of a point to 46.6. Advances were recorded for 215 issues, 330 declined and 171 were unchanged of the 716 traded.

The bond market remained in a rut today and closing prices showed about an equal division of gains and losses.

U.S. Government had gains ranging up 6-32 of a point. A few railroads moved up a point or so.

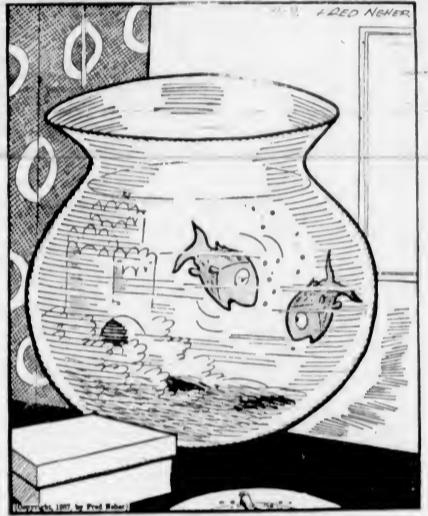

Foreign dollar loans were marked by an upswing in South American obligations. Argentine 4% advanced 1-1-2 to 85 and Brazilian 6-1/2s gained 1-3 to 22-1-2.

TIME OUT! - By Chet Smith

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

WHY IT IS CALLED "GEORGIA"

It is only by chance that Georgia is not known as Margravate of Azilia.

That was the name by which it was to have been called when the Hanoverian Prince, King George I of England, who could neither speak nor write the English language, granted the territory Georgia now roughly comprises to Sir Robert Montgomery shortly after the turn of the eighteenth century.

Fortunately or not, the grant was conditioned upon the land being settled within three years, a stipulation which failed of fulfillment, so that it reverted to the grantor.

In 1732, King George II, who subsequently achieved the additional distinction of being the last British monarch to fight in battle, chartered the same territory for settlement to Oglethorpe, who promptly named the colony after the donor, the name, this time, sticking.

Though Georgia is so-called after an English King of German origin, its title is of Hellenic descent.

We have it from the Greek word for "village," springing from "ge," earth, and "ergon," to work.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY PROBLEMS: A MOTHER OFFERS TO TAKE "HEART-BROKEN MOTHER'S" SON INTO HER HOME—A WOMAN BELIEVES SHE HAS THE RIGHT TO IMPOSE HER DENOMINATIONAL AFFILIATION ON A MAN—A SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL WANTS TO SHIFT FOR HERSELF BECAUSE HER PARENTS FORBID HER TO STAY OUT LATER THAN 11 O'CLOCK—TRAGEDY FOLLOWS A SECRET MARRIAGE

The Round-Up!

For "Heart-Broken Mother": "I would like so much to get in touch with you. I have sons, twenty and seventeen, both employed; another fifteen, who helps with the errands at home, with another boy and two little girls. I would give you my opinion, but I can't, for I know our boy is too big for me when it comes to extra care and guarding. My oldest was graduated from high school in 1936. The next one will graduate this coming May. Our town is small, but there is a good public school across the street from my home which is nice and comfortable. Your boy could live with us and he would be one of our family and have the best of care. My husband has been an employee of the railroad for fifteen years and can give the best of references. Your boy would be sent to school and to church, and you could come to see him or we would take him to see you as per arrangement. Please let me hear from you—M.E.P."

If "Heart-Broken Mother" has not yet solved her problem, this offer should give her a good measure. And all good things to "M.E.P." whose mother's heart is great enough and warm enough to take in a little stranger. How her husband and children must love her for being the woman she is!

Louise: Most emphatically I do not agree with you. A woman has no right to impose his denomination on a man than a man has to impose his on a woman. It is not the label under which we worship God but its sincerity to our worship that is the measure of our devotion. Since you love one another so much and church is your only quiet place, why not try this plan—go with him to his church this Sunday and he goes to your church with you next Sunday. You'll find God in both churches.

Mabel: You are sixteen and you "guess I'll leave home and shift for myself," because your parents forbid your staying out later than 11 o'clock. You ask me whether they are "narrow-minded" or a formal party, when the hour fixed by your parents would be inconvenient and require a sacrifice of good time, on your part, to observe. I am sure if you talked to your parents, they would understand. They would be more lenient if you explained their rules at all other times, they would make these times exceptions to those rules. If they are wise, understanding parents, they will do so. A sixteen-year-old girl, leaving home and shifting for herself, might do well enough providing she has something to shift on and something to shift to. You have neither. Tell your parents what you have told me. Try to enlist their help instead of arousing their anger.

"Uncertain": "I made a secret marriage with a boy my family objected to because he drank too much and caroused. He took sacred oaths they would never be another drink and that he would quit the wild crowd he ran with. I should have known that if he was on the level, he would strangle him with his own hands and then he would have been a saint, while under the influence of liquor, he ran over and killed a man. Our marriage was disclosed. He was sent to prison. The disgrace was too much for my mother; it was her death warrant. I hope this will help you to decide against taking the chance I did and losing as I have—N.T.B."

Robert T.: When you meet your ex-wife greet her as you would any other acquaintance unless she remains a friend in which case greet her as you would any other friend.
